

My parents married at Westminster, and I was Baptized into the church as a baby. My husband, Ty went through the New Members class a few years ago and laughs every time Donovan makes a dig at Baptists, his former denomination.

Since returning to Nashville in 2018, I have been a part of the Young Adult's group, partnered with people through the Congregational Care program, and served on the Property Committee. I have always been involved at church, but even so, I never imagined I would be put forth as an Elder. I am honored by the opportunity and look forward to serving the congregation in this capacity.

As of 2022, Ty and I will be parents. My dogs are not ready to share my attention with babies. All the same, I cannot wait to see how they interact with the newest additions to our family. I work with Westminster Home Connection but will reduce my hours to part-time for the first few years of motherhood. My hobbies include painting, drawing, running, and supporting Vanderbilt basketball through thick and thin.
