

A Nashville native, Jonathan Cole and his wife Lisa have been members of Westminster since 2011. Jonathan grew up at Calvary United Methodist Church in Green Hills, and served in numerous capacities there, including as Lay Leader. For the past five years, Jonathan has taught one of the Disciple classes with Guy Griffith. Jonathan is completing his second year on Session and just became Chair of the Hands on Mission Committee. Jonathan is a trial lawyer with Baker Donelson and has served as President of the Nashville Bar Association and the National Conference of Bar Presidents. He currently serves on the boards of the American Bar Endowment and the YMCA of Middle Tennessee. Jonathan and Lisa have two children. Anna Grace is currently a first year law student at the University of Tennessee, and Ramsay is a Freshman at Centre College, playing on their varsity lacrosse team.
