"Another word for creativity is courage."

– Henri Matisse

Over the years, Joy in Learning has invited everyone to go outside their comfort zone – whether it be through pottery, weaving, painting, tai chi, or other activities – while also getting to know our many neighbors. You can witness that emphasis in the Joy in Learning hallway where a world map welcomes and challenges you!

That's why Henri Matisse's quote above resonates with me. It brings these thoughts together. "Another word for creativity is courage." Isn't that what faith is all about? The courage to go outside one's comfort zone? To reflect on life and scripture in a playful way? To take a risk?

– Beth Drake

Starting on Wednesdays in November, a new adventure into the arts and scripture awaits you! Come experience the Holy Spirit leading your heart through a paintbrush, pencil, marker, clay, beads, and more as you meditate on the Word. In addition, each month we will have a featured art medium with a leader who will guide you in new techniques.

A WORD OF THANKS

You may not always see the faces of those who knit or crochet sweet baby blankets, but we are pretty sure they made a parent and child smile! Thank you to the Knitting and Crocheting Ministry!

Twenty STEM, Craft, and Imaginative boxes were viewed by many on Thursday, Sept. 28, before handing them over to the staff at Preston Taylor Ministries staff for their elementary mentors and mentees! A special thank you to Janet Kuhn for organizing these boxes and the many who created these amazing hands-on activity boxes!

Thank you to Sandra Plant and Billy Humphrey for organizing the delightful Authors Roundtable featuring four Telling Your Story published authors on Friday, Sept. 29, in the Café. What a wonderful event to showcase our writers!
