

Krissie Self

Krissie Self was baptized at Westminster shortly after birth. She grew up attending youth group, bible study, and participating in choir. In 2015, Krissie and her husband Travis joined the church upon moving back to Nashville. Currently, Krissie serves on the Westminster's Children's Education Committee, Adult Education Committee through her leadership of the Young Families Sunday School Class, and the Nominating Committee. She also recently completed the Disciple I Bible Study. Krissie is the Chief Operating Officer for Sidekick Therapy Partners, and she and Travis have two boys, Parker (7) and William (5).
