

Fred Lowrance

Fred and Hontas Lowrance, along with their three children (Mac, Lula, and Hattie), have been members of Westminster since 2011.

Fred's faith journey began as a child at Myers Park Presbyterian in Charlotte, NC where his parents always insisted they sit in the first pew, pulpit side on Sunday mornings so that they would be forced to pay better attention to the sermon in advance of the quiz that would come at lunch! Following his graduation from Davidson College, he returned to Myers Park to coach Church Ball and serve as a volunteer youth group leader.

While Fred's family and investment management career at Lee, Danner & Bass here in Nashville fill up his calendar, he did find enough time to previously serve on Westminster's Session and Finance Committee, as well as somehow "pass" Disciple I last year. He and his family find great joy in participating in the many service opportunities available through the church - most notably Habitat for Humanity, Preston Taylor Ministries, and the annual FaithWorks.
