

Katherine McElroy

Katherine McElroy began attending Westminster as a Vanderbilt graduate student after graduating from Rhodes College. Since joining the church in 1979, she has taught children's Sunday School, served on the session, and chaired several committees and the Legacy Fund Board. She is currently involved with Crowded Table and tutoring math at Cockrill Elementary through Westminster, and volunteering at the Nashville Entrepreneur Center. Since retiring from growing two startups, she has been playing bridge and sewing for her three granddaughters. She and her husband Jim have a daughter, Rebecca, who was baptized and married at Westminster and now lives in D.C. with her family.