

Eric Helman

Eric and his wife, Joellyn, have a long history with Westminster Presbyterian Church, having been married here in 1985. After living in Germany, Tampa, and Atlanta, they returned to Nashville in 2013 to retire and rejoin the WPC community. They reside in Belle Meade and have three sons—Alex, Clark, and Jake—and three grandchildren: George, Lucille, and Charlie.

A former military officer and IBMer, Eric is the founder of several technology firms and currently serves as an investor and business advisor. When he isn't watching Vanderbilt athletics, Eric can often be found outdoors hiking, gardening, or working with his hands on various home improvement and DIY projects. He is an avid golfer and an active tennis and pickleball player, and also enjoys culturally immersive travel and genealogical research.
